CONTINUE FIGHT AGAINST PLAGUE

Health Inspectors Scouring
City to Stamp Out Paralysis
Breeding Holes.

The fight of the Health Department against dangers of infantile paralysis, within Washington, was turned on private yards and garbage cans yesterday, according to a statement made by Acting Health Officer Norris. During the last week the department has been giving special attention to conditions in lunch rooms and grocery stores. Many prosecutions were recommended against food vending places, and in the event that unsanitary back yards are found, further prosecutions will result.

There is little danger of the city playgrounds being closed because of the New York epidemic at this time.

"The fly in Washington is doomed. Every possible breeding place will be eliminated before the scouring of the city is finished," said Dr. Norris. "This is the first summer that sanitary inspectors have not been allowed to take a vacation." Health Officer Woodward is expected to return to resume the work that has been carried on by Dr. Norris.

Dr. W. C. Rucker, of the Public Health Service, announced yesterday that Assistant Surgeon L. O. Weldon, of the New York Hospital, has been detailed to join the medical men who are fighting the interstate spread of the scourge, making twenty men in all working in the metropolis.

The Department of Agriculture yesterday issued a warning against the use of "quack remedies" for relief from infantile paralysis. Food and drug acts will prevent such "cures" from being manufactured in one State and sold in another, but each individual State is compelled to watch the "quacks" that exist within its jurisdiction.

There were also showers, mostly with thunder, in the East Gulf and Atlantic States, and locally in Eastern Tennessee. The weather will be generally fair Friday and Saturday east of the Mississippi River.

The winds along the North Atlantic and Middle Atlantic coast will be moderate variable with unsettled weather.

URGES LIBERAL PENSIONS.

Underwriters' Report Takes Up
Case of District Firemen.

In a report of the committee of the National Board of Fire Underwriters recently more liberal pensions for the District firemen and a compulsory retirement after long service would increase the department's efficiency.

The water system and the organization of the local department are satisfactory, but, according to the underwriters, more alarm boxes are needed.

PENSION FUND URGED FOR FIRE FIGHTERS

Report of Underwriters Criticising the Retirement System in Washington Boost for Firemen.

An adequate pension fund for policemen and firemen of the District is believed to have been advanced a step further by the report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters issued yesterday, characterizing the provisions for pensions in Washington as less than in any other large city.

On the matter of pensions, the report says: "The personnel is mainly of young, active men, but a number of members are of an age and length of service which merit retirement. The provisions for pensions are less than in any other large city; more liberal pensions and an age for compulsory retirement would improve the service. Fire losses in the District compare favorably with those of other cities. The gross fire loss for the five years ended June 30, amounted to $3,915,120."

Indorses Forum Plan.

Members of the Rhode Island Avenue Suburban Citizens' Association have passed resolutions reiterating their indorsement of the use of public school buildings as community forums, and criticizing the bill now before Congress which limits the organizers of community forums to parents of children enrolled in the public schools.

KIDS ASSAULT FOOD SUPPLIES

Elks Lead 1200 Children
Against Commissary at Orphans' Outing.

Armed with rapidfire juvenile appetites, 1200 children from the Capital's orphan asylums, under the leadership of the local lodge of Elks, made a drive on Glen Echo yesterday, capturing 400 gallons of ice cream, 500 gallons of lemonade, 400 sandwiches, 200 eggs, 1200 boxes of candy and several minor trophies, including baseballs and bats, over 2000 toy balloons, jacks and rubber balls and numerous other toys and small musical instruments.

The word to advance was given yesterday morning after the children mobilized at Tenth and F streets. The children and their attendants and hosts beat a strategic retreat and were all in their bunks by dark last night to dream of one of the happiest days they ever had, not even excepting Christmas.

It was the annual outing to the orphans of the city, given by the Elks, who enjoyed the day as much as the "kiddies." Children from eleven different homes were present. William L. Evans was chairman of the general committee on arrangements.

CAMP GOOD WILL BOYS AND GIRLS ENJOY SWIM

Youngsters Shriek and Splash in "Old Swimming Hole" for First Time.

The boys, and afterward, the girls, had a swim at Camp Good Will yesterday. It was the first trip to the "old swimming hole" for the youthful campers. The boys made a rush for the water as soon as they sighted it. Screams and shrieks marked the first dip of the little miscreants, but the instructors hope to make swimmers of them before they leave camp.

A play by the little girls will be given in the near future in the amusement pavilion.

Three new volunteer workers have joined the camp. They are Miss Eleanor Bushbee, Miss Florence Hartman and Miss Dorothy Hertman.
